10 volumes Collected Seminars

Materia Medica | Cases

This compilation consists of the video cases presented during a seminar in Netherlands in May, 1989. The account is a composition of the notes of five different homeopaths. There are in total 29 cases which give brief case histories and help you understand how the case taking has been done, what were the main symptoms which were selected for prescription, how the characteristics were chosen, what were the rubrics and how a particular remedy was selected. All the reasoning for all the above steps discussed above has also been given. This book is of great help as two very eminent homeopaths share their experience and tracks the path of case taking for budding and practising homeopaths.

Ananda Zaren was initially trained as a nurse and as a midwife, but once she was introduced to homeopathy in the late 1970s, she was totally smitten by this science and art. She was one of the early students of George Vithoulkas, and she was a very serious student of Vithoulkas' style of classical homeopathy. Early in her career in homeopathy, she integrated homeopathy into her midwifery practice, though after a short time, she realized that she loved homeopathy more than she loved practicing midwifery. She then specialized in homeopathic family medicine, ultimately opening a practice in Santa Barbara, California, and calling her clinic 'Family Medical and Homeopathic Clinic.' Ananda Zaren was killed in a car accident on September 20, 2008.

Henny Heudens-Mast has practiced Classical Homeopathy for more than 30 years. A diplomat of the Netherlands College for Naturopathie, she was chairwoman of the Society for the Promotion of Homeopathy in Belgium for ten years. She has served as a board member and officer of the European Council for Classical Homeopathy and is currently chairwoman and director of Studiecentrum voor Homeopathie v.z.w. in Leuven, Belgium. An honoured member of the Swedish Academy for Classical Homeopathy, Henny teaches regularly in the US, Germany, Switzerland, the Netherlands, Sweden and Belgium. Currently she is assisting in the development of a school for educating homeopathic teachers in Germany.
